

Grand Hotels International appoints Hotel Manager for Hotel Grand Chancellor in Palm Cove

Grand Hotels International has appointed Krishna Ramadugu as Hotel Manager for their newest acquisition in Palm Cove, Far North Queensland, which they are due to take over from Novotel on 4th December.

The property will be rebranded as Hotel Grand Chancellor Palm Cove and is a 4 star resort styled hotel, set in 3.6 hectares of tropical gardens, 5 minutes' walk from the beach.

Krishna Ramadugu has worked for the Hotel Grand Chancellor group over the past 6 years as Front Office Manager, Rooms Division Manager and more recently Food & Beverage Manager for the chain's largest conference property in Hobart. He brings a wealth of experience in hotel operations and strategic management, and is committed to working closely with the team to continue to deliver high levels of customer service for their guests.

Peter Yared, Area General Manager – Queensland comments: 'I am delighted Krishna has accepted this key role in leading our team in the tropical Far North. He brings dynamic leadership, sound judgment, is approachable and has the right operational experience to support the staff in their everyday duties. I wish Krishna the very best in this challenging role and look forward to working closely with him.'

Hotel Grand Chancellor Palm Cove has 140 rooms, offering a mix of hotel rooms and suites, spread throughout the resort. Other facilities include two resort styled pools, poolside bar, restaurant, games room and a dedicated Conference Centre, overlooking the neighbouring golf course. The resort is popular with couples, tour groups, incentives, conferencing and weddings due to its idyllic location. Palm Cove is a relaxed seaside village, located between Port Douglas and Cairns.
